Favorite quotes:

“The achievements of an organization are the results of the combined effort of each individual.”- Vincent Lombardi

The thing about plans is they don't take into account the unexpected...So when we're thrown a curveball, whether in the field, or life...We have to improvise. Of course, some of us are better at it than others...And some of us just have to move on to Plan B, & make the best of it—Meredith Grey
